

1-3d A Consistent Theme

Given our focus on the fundamental question of what determines the success and failure of firms around the globe, we will develop a unified framework by organizing the material in every chapter according to the two core perspectives, namely, the institution-based and resource-based views (see Emerging Markets 1.1). With our unified framework—an innovation in IB textbooks—we will not only explore the global business “trees,” but also see the global business “forest.”
